It is now stated that Secretary Bayard demands the repeal of the Mexican law CASKETS AND COFFINS under which Cutting was arrested.

Arkansas has gone democratic. The administration will point with pride to this as Mr. Garland's vindication.

General Guitar is running for congress in the sixth Missouri district, and there is music in the air. The opposition are trying to play Guitar for a flat.

It is absolutely certain that there wil be no war with Mexico, but as Cutting threatens to start out on a lecturing tour the volunteers might as well keep their guns loaded.-Chicago News.

The people of Arizona ought to get up a cactus medal for L. Q. C. Lamar jr who visited Fort Apache recently and reported on the "noble" looking "innocent" Indians. Mr. Lamar, if reported correctly in the Washington Republican, is entitled to the honors of being he boss liar or biggest tool in the United States.

The Prescott (Arizona) Courier give over a column of space to an exhaustive discussion of the fishery question As this matter is of vital importanc to Arizona whose fishing smacks are in danger of annihilation by the bloody Canucks, the space is well occupied .-Albuquerque Journal.

Governor Zulick, who has gone east after his family, dropped into the Nationa Capital and told the associated press agent to telegraph all over the world that "Governor Zulick, of Arizona, is here for the purpose of urging the administration t remove the Apaches from my Territory." Zulick may not have any executive ability, but he has genius in a certain direction.-Nogales News.

The Phenix Gazette is not in a pleasant mood over the deteat of Maricopa's favorite delegate to Congress and indulges in the following cutting sar-casm: "Mr. Smith was formerly district attorney of Cochise county, is a bright, active and young man, with acknowledged ability and indefatigable energy. He will make a brilliant campaign and will be elected by an overwhelmin majority, particularly if old Hassayamper like Bean is to oppose him. Hurrah fer Smith."

The JOURNAL-MINER published the nominees of the democratic convention on the 7th instant. Our contemporary, beyond making, an item of news has thus far failed to place the ticket at the head of its columns as is customary. Wonder if it is waiting for the return of the delegate from northern Arizona. The latter took his grip-sack filled with proxies to the convention and is Smelting & Lead Co is no doubt expected to return with it filled with newspaper lubricator.

The accounts of the drouth which has San Francisco, afflicted Texas make it one of the severes disasters which has visited that state dur ng the present generation. It is of wide extant and unhappily covers that part of the state least prepared to recover from such an affliction. The most trustworthy statements place the eastern line of the parched district at Austin, the state's capital. West of a line running nearly north and south of that city the country is nearly denuded of grass and crops. No seasonable rains have fallen for fourteen months, and in some localities eighteen months have intervened. The streams have dried up, wells and cisterns have given out, and as a consequence man and beast are enduring all the horrors of a water famine.

a French paper. One Thomas Moult who flourished in the thirteenth century. and who is alleged to have foretold the appearance of Napoleon 1., the revolution of 1830, the Italian war and its consequences, the war of 1870, and First Class Rigs to be other matters of moment, has left behind him several predictions for the present year. He promises us, for examample, a series of revolutions in one of the great states of christendom, a new form of government in a republic, a notable stirfe, and the ascent of a throne by a prince. In addition to these prophesies Thomas bequeathed a few precious words for the guidance of the wine merchants. The harvest, he declares, will be plentiful, yet the price will be high. The grape crop will be good only in a few districts, and wise men will sitck to their old wine and buy more. The chief item of intesest in these prophesies is in the claim that they were made 600 years son.
